

Honouring family relationships and the law

Posted on: November 11, 2025

We know how to protect your financial interests while navigating complex family dynamics. Our Family Law team's approach is practical, proactive and always tailored to your needs.

Every family and circumstance is different, and we tailor our advice accordingly – whether you respond best to verbal guidance, detailed written information, or even spreadsheets and numbers. We pride ourselves on being quick and responsive, and will keep you informed at every step so you're never left in the dark. We'll always be upfront with you about your options – sometimes that means hearing hard truths about the strengths and weaknesses of your position. But we believe clear advice is better than false reassurance.

So come and talk to CLM’s Family Law team. We’ll help you understand your rights and put the most effective protections in place. Read more insights below.

Bank of Mum and Dad

Trust protection for relationship property

Can I contest a Will?

On-again off-again relationships

Divorce and protection orders